Welcome to the outstanding Normandy

With its impressive landscapes and culture, Seine-Maritime, cradle of Impressionism, is a vibrant and appealing part of Normandy that will take you through authentic experiences.

Land of Normandy – Discover Seine-Maritime, land of Normandy throughout the seasons. In the seaside, the countryside or in town, take the time to find heavenly places close to everything and far from stress.

Land of traditions – Welcome in Seine-Maritime, entrance to Normandy. Beauty and tradition lovers, come to this land of inspiration, discover our traditions and the flavours of our art of living.

Land of history and stories – France history, Art history, funny stories, unusual stories, anecdotes and land secrets, you are in Seine-Maritime: land of history and stories. Listen to them and discover our land.

Alabaster Coast destination
All along its 130 kilometres (80 miles) of cliffs, the Alabaster Coast reveals a whole host of treasures. A unique and natural masterpiece awakening a rare display of sentiment.

Seine Valley destination
Majestic Seine Valley. As it twists and turns along the valley with landscapes of contrasting beauty on either side magnified by a remarkable historic heritage, the River Seine passes through an exceptional setting.

Countryside destination
Preserved by people passionate about their land, the Seine-Maritime countryside is sheer fascination due to the diversity of the various areas – Bray, Caux, Bresle Valley... A landscape imbued with art and history, it promises an explosion of colour, fragrance and flavor.

Life at the full-scale – Nature discloses its outstanding beauty. From one end of the area to the other, discover unique and carefully preserved French landscapes. Wetlands, forests, open fields, magnificent beech woods for the glory of the observer's look.
An invitation to take a walk – Parks and gardens. Wonderful little corners of paradise, ideal for making that heaven sent moment last. Classical French gardens, English style gardens, contemporary creations whether grandiose or intimate. The shapes, colours and smells will stimulate every one of your senses!

A land of traditions – For the lovers of the beautiful and the authentic, an opportunity for hands-on experience of a land of inspiration to discover the perfumes of our own traditions and the tastes of our art of living.

The secrets of linen – Linen will tell you its story, about the fabrics, high fashion and its undulating waves, ranging from incomparable green to the blue of an azure sky. (Find out about this country which will tell you about its passion and share it with you: flax and the secrets of growing it).

The taste of the land – Take a well-deserved break here where the land and gastronomy live so well together. Take a trip to discover these delicate tastes and new dishes whose quality you would never have imagined.

An appointment to share – Seine-Maritime festivities … in step with the seasons. Alone, as a couple or a family, set your spirit free and enjoy extraordinary moments of pleasure.

A land of tales – A land that draws on the imagination with its tales and legends, unique stories, anecdotes and secrets, to be discovered by visitors. Enter the world of the great minds.

Historical highlights – In the course of the centuries, Seine-Maritime, has built up a historical heritage of the highest quantity and unequalled density (wood-frame houses, architecture by Auguste Perret now registered with the World Patrimony, the mark or of mediaeval times…). Travel to the heart of Seine-Maritime and visit the 5 «Cities of Art and History» (Erbef-sur-Seine, Rouen, Dieppe, Fécamp and Le Havre) and discover its heritage which is both extraordinary and unique!

The history of Seine-Maritime – The history of Seine-Maritime is closely linked to that of Normandy, the capital city which was Rouen. Discover it over the centuries, starting from Roman times and continuing through to the 21st century, bookmarked with the signs of our identity and culture.

Famous people – Stories and discovery! Set off down the trails left by these men of art: Monet, Corneille, Maupassant… who chose this land as their inspiration.
Welcome to Seine-Maritime – Normandy

Magnificent scenery of the white chalk cliffs... Turquoise waters of the Alabaster Coast... beautiful green patchwork landscape... Subtle sparkling meanderings of the Seine... Wonderful, hidden pieces of paradise to discover throughout the seasons.

Seine-Maritime / Gastronomy

Gastronomy
Normandy flavors

Normandy is considered like one of the best gastronomy place in France. Seine-Maritime has got a reputation thanks seafood, cheeses, apples or Rouen’s duck which is a remarkable speciality.

From the sea, products are remarkable: scallop which is celebrated every year in Dieppe, the scallop capital, herring with many forms as smoked, rawed, marinated... sole, turbot...

Others specialities like cream, butter, cheese and especially the Neufchatel cheese. Neufchatel is so famous for its form: a heart! This is the oldest Normandy cheese and maybe the most romantic.

Apple, symbol of Normandy – you can taste it in so many different forms: cider, eau de vie, pommeau.. There is a fruit road between Duclair and Jumièges, an area where you can buy fruits near the river Seine: apples, pears, cherries..

Also, in Fécamp, you can discover the Benedictine liquor. So famous around the world, it’s one of the pride of Seine-Maritime.

Nautical cities
Le Havre, first nautical town of France
In 1838, the city of Le Havre has the first yacht club in Europe with its Regatta Society.
The City of Le Havre confirms its roots in the sailing.
With more than 3,000 members, the city of Le Havre can boast of being the first city in France to the number of members. In terms of boating, the city can boast a new marina (Port Vauban) operational since 2012, label 3 * network «France nautical station» and many yacht clubs linked to the history of the city.

Called Port Vauban, this new installation inside the city, gives to Le Havre a second marina.
This new phase of development increases the potential capacity of 227 places. With a lower fare from 40% to that of a location in the main marina, Vauban can accommodate vessels with a length between 6 and 15 meters.
Located in the heart of city, 3 minutes walk from the railway station and walk from the shopping center Docks Vauban.
Port Vauban is a major achievement in terms of water facilities. Location has exceptional accessibility for Paris in two hours by train, just opposite the railway station, or the road, into the city.
A second phase will increase its capacity due to nearly 500 rings.
So, in 2017, Le Havre will have the symbolic figure of 2017 rings for its 500th anniversary.
Concerning cruises – 70 stops in 2010, 97 in 2011, 107 in 2012, 120 in 2013 and more than 130 already programmed for 2014. The cruise knows currently a record growth that approximates +40% of the passengers annually.

Alabaster Coast nautical resort
Saint-Valery-en-Caux/Veules-les-Roses / Veulettes-sur-Mer/Lac of Caniel
The city of Saint-Valery-en-Caux has rehabilitate its waterfront and now offers development very rewarding.
To facilitate access seafort, station Alabaster Coast had to restructure its esplanade including water games, a paddling pool and a sandbox.
The beach walk has also been renovated and offers new beach houses.
Seine-Maritime / Between sea and river Seine

Well sheltered from the prevailing winds by the sides of the valley, the marina is nestled in the heart of the city. Composed of two basins, the marina hosts about 550 boats. Restaurants, shops and services are located near the marina.

Note the presence of fishing boats all the year where you can buy fresh fish. Four activities are proposed on four different sites as a way of combining thrills with different settings.

Caniel lake – A peaceful lake in terms of its windless nature, set among greenery where the wind is so light that it is ideal for learning to sail or for pedal-boating, fishing, canoeing, swimming and above all, nautical teleskiing, the big attraction of the venue. The site is ideally arranged for family activities away from the strong winds of the open sea.

Veules-les-Roses – Off the coast of this attractive seaside resort crossed by the Veules where irises grow on the thatched roofs of the wood frame houses: an ideal spot for windsurfing and fun boarding, a technique for people seeking intense sensations and strong winds.

Veulettes-sur-Mer – This charming seaside resort overlooking a beach of pebbles (and sand at low tide) at the foot of cliffs unwinding over a distance of 15 km is the starting point for tours in single place sea kayaks, sailed in Eskimo fashion with a double ended paddle.

Saint-Valery-en-Caux – This port is carefully protected from the prevailing winds by the steep slopes of the valley, making it the ideal starting point for putting to sea in an old yacht or a modern sailboat, taking the time to make an enjoyable crossing …

Dieppe, the oldest seaside in France

Since 1824, Dieppe is a famous seaside resort and also the first scallop french port.

Dieppe doesn’t forget boaters and now offers new equipment with the creation of a dry port in the district of Pollet.

The heritage has been privileged here because this dry port is created in a dry dock with its beautiful bricks on the wall. This new port can accommodate 300 boats. This equipment is proving to be a boon for boaters who see the possibility of additional places. The main port offers 500 rings and 50 rings for visitors. On site, a redesigned space welcomes all services for maintenance.

Ideally situated close to the shops of downtown, the marina has a fuel station, crane, internet access (wifi), a toilet block, parking, a video surveillance system and an access control for pontoons.
Fécamp, city of Newfoundlanders

Every skipper will tell you how exalting it is to arrive in this port, facing a wall of chalk cliffs. With 800 moorings, this privileged natural site hosts around 4000 boats every year, dropping their anchors right in the heart of the town, a stone’s throw from the shops, restaurants and the future museum. More recently, a new design hotel, new gourmet addresses on the seafront and soon a museum in the old warehouses … The city from which the «labourers of the sea» left has not finished showing us how modern and ambitious it can be.

A new storage area was created last year to accommodate 180 boats.

Le Tréport and its famous funicular

A fishing port living in step with the tides and the famous François 1er, dock, lined with shops, hotels and restaurants, and always the same frenetic activity when the boats come in.

In the Cordiers district, the old fishermen’s district, small narrow streets lined with brick and flint houses remind us of the austere life of the sailors, while on top of France’s highest cliff (104 m high), rich mansions with their bow windows take us back to the time when Le Tréport was a holiday resort.

Rouen, The heart Seine valley marina

Since 2008, Rouen has a marina that welcomes boaters in a secure area through portals and badges access. The port covers 25,000m² and 150 rings are available on the pontoons totally equipped. This port completes the offer of the yachting port of Saint-Aubin-les-Elbeuf, built on the locks of the city.

These locks worked until 1939. Then, in 1941, backfilling began.

Today, we can find a small yachting port instead of these disused locks. Ideally located at one hundred kilometers from the sea, this port offers 150 rings and 350 meters of monitored pontoons.

Nautical activities

With 130 km of coast, 5 leisure areas, 3 nautical station, many beaches… Seine-Maritime is one of the best destination for nautical sports.

Windsurfing, kitesurf, funboard, stand-up paddle, flyboard, sea or river kayaking, rowing, surfing, sailing cruise… choice is so outstanding.

Seine-Maritime welcomes yachting lover, professional and all people who want to try one of this activity.

You can practice activities in outstanding areas.

Make paddle under Etretat’s cliff, make kitesurf around Le Havre’s bay, funboard on the Petites-Dalles’s beach.

To practice windsurf, best places are Sainte-Adresse, Fécamp, Saint-Pierre-en-Port, Les Petites-Dalles, Saint-Aubin-sur-Mer, Veulettes-sur-Mer… Be careful sailing on Alabaster coast is very challenging, so for beginners, it’s possible to practice windsurf on lakes and it’s an extraordinary opportunity. For example Daniel lake, Mesnil-sous-Jumièges area, Varenne area or Bedanne area.

If you are passionate by body board, best places are Etretat, Le Havre, and Saint-Aubin-sur-Mer.

For the kitesurf, you can practice it on Saint-Jouin beach.

On the ways
Seine-Maritime

In Seine-Maritime, along the Alabaster Coast, in the countryside or in the Seine Valley, there are many beautiful ways to discover our land. For sportspersons who like bicycle, the Alabaster coast cycle road is for you, for families with children, don’t hesitate to take a walk on the Avenue Verte... and for people who appreciate the art and especially impressionism, do you know that Seine-Maritime is the cradle of impressionism...

The Avenue Verte

The avenue Verte is a real immersion in the Seine-Maritime countryside, without cars.

Come and relax with your family or friends on the safe green road of 45 km long made especially to enjoy walks, roller, skating, cycling or horse riding.

Since 2012 and the Olympic games, it’s possible to go from Paris to London by bicycle. This great project was imagined in Seine-Maritime and associates 6 French “departments” with English partners in order to create one of the most amazing European bicycle itineraries.

On the Impressionist roads

Easel slung across the shoulder, with brand new ingenious paint tubes, those outdoor painters, Pissarro, Boudin, Sisley and Monet, come by the amazing rail to catch the seaside skies shades, watch the changing plays of light through the filter of the clouds, study the water reflections.

They especially choose the Seine-Maritime landscapes such as the “côte d’Albâtre” and the “Valée de la Seine” as subjects. As for Monet, he is haunted by two subjects both made of limestone: the cathedral of Rouen and the cliff of Étretat, which will serve his inspiration until exhaustion.

But what would be this painting movement without the beautiful light of Seine-Maritime and its changing skies! So you too, come and discover those magical places full of history and anecdotes.

5 itineraries enable you to discover the main themes of the impressionist painting, like “townscapes” in the region of Dieppe, “the sea” between Fécamp and Étretat, “the river” in the Seine Valley, “the moment” in Rouen and “the light of the Estuary” in Le Havre. The 22 information panels are located where the painters settled the easel and give “in situ” reproductions of their paintings.

A flashcode on each information panel gives you information concerning all the impressionist sites in Seine-Maritime, the paintings and the current of painting.

The writers’ houses road

Discovering a writer’s house is a way to discover an atmosphere, another time. Feel the atmosphere of the place and read Corneille, Flaubert, Leblanc or Hugo, an unforgettable literary adventure...

During the 17th century, Corneille writes and lives in the centre of Rouen, in the house he was born in, on “rue de la Pie”. But he also has a countryside house in Petit-Couronne: the atmosphere of a vacation house at the countryside. During the 19th century, the Bourgeoisie of Rouen prefers living out of the town in comfortable houses along the Seine: of all this sometimes only remain detached houses in the back of the garden. As for Flaubert, he settles in Croisset and has walks on the famous “Allée des tilleuls”. Have a stop at the Flaubert’s Museum in Rouen, located in the former professional accommodation of Gustave Flaubert’s father, who was a surgeon at the Hôtel-Dieu Hospital. It is also in the 19th century that sea bathing becomes fashionable in the seaside towns, where a new architecture appears: the casinos, the water centres and the beautiful Anglo-Norman Villas. Maurice Leblanc comes every summer in Étretat, in a nice property surrounded with a pergola and a garden where he writes the adventures of Arsène Lupin.

Victor Hugo is linked with Villequier by the tragedy: it is the place where the Vacquerie family was living and the place where his daughter Léopoldine and her husband Charles Vacquerie drowned. In this beautiful mansion of the 19th century along the Seine, you will discover many documents and even drawings of Victor Hugo.

The Alabaster coast cycle road

From Le Tréport to Le Havre, the Alabaster Coast Cycle Route is a bicycle course along the Channel coast. It shows you a mosaic of exceptional panoramas. Between the seaside and the countryside, there are about 180 km on signed minor roads, winding between the Alabaster cliffs and the green valleys, linking beautiful villages with the Seine-Maritime seaside towns. There is no traffic-free path here! Only little roads crossing landscapes that will take your breath away, with some inevitable hills. The Alabaster Coast Cycle Route is a part of the EuroVelo 4 European itinerary that will link the Netherlands with the Atlantic Coast.

The Norman Abbeys, an historical road

In Seine-Maritime, near the beautiful Seine meanders or in Bec de Caux, you can admire and visit nine abbeys, thousands year old buildings and master pieces of the Norman Romanesque and Gothic arts. All similar and unique at the same time! These places of spirituality have known wonderful but also very bad moments and even unpredictable conversions.

The most impressing abbey of the Seine Valley, Saint-Pierre de Jumièges, is known as “the most beautiful ruin of France” and gives a real open-air lesson of architecture. Its 10 centuries will no more have secrets for you. There is also the Le Valasse Abbey, a Cistercian abbey of the 12th century, which has been a castle before being converted in textile mill or even in dairy.

Many abbeys gather religious communities: in 1994, the Benedictine sisters of Lisieux settled in the Notre-Dame-du-Pré Abbey in Valmont or the monks of Saint-Wandrille-sur-Rançon, who perpetuate the tradition of prayer and work with loneliness and contemplation, even if they manage to make many food or decoration products. Other abbeys, others histories to discover in the Montivilliers Abbey, the Saint-Ouen Abbey in Rouen, the Fécamp, Saint-Georges de Boscherville or le prieuré de Graville Abbeys.

The Alabaster coast cycle road

The Alabaster Coast Cycle Route is a sport course but it remains accessible for every biker in good shape. It is not a traffic-free path but a selection of roads, on which you can sometimes find some traffic. But it gives to bikers the best conditions to ride as close as possible to the coast. There is a map about this road.

It's as if the air and soil of Normandy inspire botanists and landscaping architects!
Seine-Maritime boasts a wonderful collection of 35 parks and gardens, with a wide range of diversities and holds the second place in France.

Remarkable gardens

On the Alabaster Coast and more specifically around Dieppe, stand the magnificent gardens Vasterival Sainte -Marguerite -sur -Mer , resulting from the love of Princess Sturdza for botany , and Parc du Bois des Moutiers created in the late nineteenth century by Sir Edwin Lutyens and Gertrude Jekyll which is a perfect example an extraordinary garden having taken advantage of an exceptional location in a valley leading the Visitors walk towards the sea.

In the city, the gardens are also present. To discover, in the heart of Rouen, on the left bank , the garden plants, landscape and botanical place, with a variety of species on 10 acres.

In Le Havre, gardens are also omnipresent with Japanese garden, gift from the Osaka port to Le Havre port, which on 2000 m² attracts visitors to the country of the rising sun.

Housed in an old military fort, “Les Jardins suspendus” (suspended gardens) are an invitation to travel through the world.

Bois-Guilbert gardens are an invitation to romance. Through 7 hectares, Jean- Marc De Pas (sculptor and landscape ) created a vast space of poetry marked sculptures.

In the Agapanthe gardens, Alexandre Thomas has created a perfectly controlled jungle where visitors can admire an alternating flowering discover throughout the year. More discreet, Angelique garden is a fine example of an amateur garden where, memory of their daughter, the owners have created the a romantic and dreaming garden.

Vegetables gardens

The garden of the castle of Miromesnil , birthplace of Guy de Maupassant, is what makes this castle if famous . Luxurious flowers, carefully ordered rows of vegetables that give a good example of what a traditional garden is. Few kilometers away, Castle Bosmelet in Auffay offers a particularly original garden. Hidden in the heart of a garden designed by Colinet , with tremendous views of the surrounding countryside , the garden is a set of colors, flowers and vegetables, and an ideal place for a pleasant walk. This is the opportunity to discover all the colors of the rainbow sky.

«Le parc de Clères» has got another diversity. On 13 hectares around a renaissance castle, 1300 animals and birds walking around remarkable trees and ponds.
